It's the perfect time to discover the upgrade in China's entertainment and pro AV industry

As the biggest entertainment and pro AV exhibition in the world, Prolight + Sound Guangzhou (PLSG) covers a broad spectrum of products and themes centring on six direct and vertical sectors: entertainment, architecture, the commercial sector, culture and tourism, and end users.

Embracing the concept of 'tech meets culture', the 2024 event will unfold across 20 exhibition halls, spotlighting five principal product categories: Pro Audio, Pro Lighting, Communication and Conferencing, Multimedia Systems and Solutions, and KTV.

PLS Unicorn Series: where 'Tech meets culture' comes alive

Dive into the heart of a fully operational live event production setting and witness first-hand unmatched expertise in integrating complex systems using state of the art technology.

Hall 9.3 is where a holistic live event production showcase awaits – bringing together a symphony of lighting, sound, and video demonstrations in one dynamic space.

Four days of training and hands-on product exploration

Throughout the show, attendees have the opportunity to deepen their understanding of the burgeoning industry ecosystems, as we foster connections across the broader entertainment and pro AV landscape. Specialists in audio, lighting and stage design, media control, networking, and e-commerce platforms will present a comprehensive educational programme that enriches the visitor experience.

Anticipated events poised to shed light on the industry's trajectory, such as the PLSG Annual Training Course and the Outdoor Line Array demonstration, are set to make a comeback, offering insights into future trends.

Supporting association

Visual X

What more awaits you at PLSG?

Two events in one – Visual X concurrently held in hall 12.2

Two shows are better than one. By attending PLSG, you'll also gain access to Visual X. Offering more access for the region's most tech-savvy buying professionals. With the increased convergence of pro AV and display solutions, it's an extension across a broader community of end users, consultants, core AV professionals, project installers and integrators who are interested in these solutions that sit across both industries.
